

Post-COVID Care Clinics

Some people who had COVID-19 continue to experience health issues for weeks or months after their initial illness. This is known as post-acute COVID-19 syndrome, also called long COVID or chronic COVID. Long COVID comprises a wide range of new, returning or ongoing symptoms people can experience after getting COVID-19.¹ Patients with long COVID commonly present with fatigue, cognitive dysfunction (brain fog), and cardiopulmonary, gastrointestinal, and mental health symptoms. Several New York City (NYC) hospitals have specialized clinics to provide follow-up care to people who had COVID-19. Post-COVID care clinics bring together clinical teams from different specialties (including pulmonology, cardiology, rehabilitation, neurology and mental health) to provide comprehensive treatment. There are also rehabilitation and physical therapy clinics with specialized services for people recovering from COVID-19.

Below is a list of NYC post-COVID-19 care clinics for patients with continuing health issues after COVID-19 illness and for providers to refer patients who require specialized care. This is not intended to be an exhaustive list of all providers and clinics providing post-COVID specialty care.

Services at NYC Health + Hospitals (H+H), including the H+H sites listed below, are available to all New Yorkers regardless of ability to pay, insurance coverage, or immigration status. Please check with the other facilities listed below for information on accepted forms of insurance, the availability of sliding scale fee schedules for uninsured patients, and whether a referral is required.
